

Czech Rep. market. macroeconomic developments & trends.

Czech Republic is one of the most prosperous CEE countries, with one of the most developed industrialized economies. The main negative effect of the global financial crisis from 2008 was a decline in exports, especially to Germany, which fuelled the macroeconomic growth of the country. At the moment Czech Republic has a steady GDP growth and the highest human development in Central and Eastern Europe.

Czech Republic GDP growth.

Czech Republic Inflation rate.

Czech Republic Unemployment rate.

Czech Republic Public Debt.

Sources: weastra, based on the Czech Statistical Office, Czech National Bank, Eurostat, OECD, CzechInvest agency.

Last update: October 2011, *forecast

